SJM's Grand Lisboa Palace Resort Macau Launches
Vivienne Westwood & Jewellery Exhibition 2026 Macau with Star-Studded Opening Ceremony

(Macau, 29 April 2026) SJM Resorts, S.A. (“SJM”) and Vivienne Westwood jointly celebrated the debut of the Vivienne Westwood & Jewellery Exhibition 2026 Macau in Southern China at Grand Lisboa Palace Resort Macau last evening, uniting the British fashion house’s storied archive with SJM’s dedication to bringing world-class cultural programmes to the region. As a quintessential cultural bridge where the heritage of East and West meet, Grand Lisboa Palace continues its legacy as a “curator of greatness,” providing the perfect, fashion-forward stage for one of Britain’s most distinctive creative legacies.

The glamorous event was held in the presence of a distinguished line-up of Guest of Honours, including Mr. Andreas Kronthaler, Creative Director of Vivienne Westwood; Mr. Giuseppe Aragoni, Chief Operating Officer of Vivienne Westwood; Mr. Michael Yap, CEO of Moda Mia Limited; Mr. Ki Hong Miao, Managing Director of Moda Mia Limited, alongside Ms. Daisy Ho, Managing Director of SJM. They were joined by Anson Lo from Hong Kong boy band MIRROR to celebrate the landmark occasion.

Ms. Daisy Ho, Managing Director of SJM, anchored the exhibition’s cultural significance within SJM’s broader strategic vision in her opening speech. “Grand Lisboa Palace has always been a platform for global storytelling, a place where the heritage of the East and West meet. It is in our DNA from day one, to be a curator of greatness. This collaboration underscores SJM’s commitment to Macau’s evolution as a World Centre of Tourism and Leisure. By bridging ‘Tourism + Art,’ we continue to elevate the Macau experience with cultural content designed to move and inspire.”

“Bringing four decades of Vivienne’s archival and runway jewellery to Macau is a deeply emotional milestone for our house,” Mr. Giuseppe Aragoni, Chief Operating Officer of Vivienne Westwood stated. “Following the overwhelming success of this exhibition in Shanghai and Chengdu, we are thrilled to bring these archives to Southern China. As our brand continues to resonate so deeply with today’s generation, displaying this collection here at Grand Lisboa Palace allows us to share our brand ethos with an entirely new audience across the region.”

Running from today until 15th July 2026, the Vivienne Westwood & Jewellery Exhibition 2026 Macau presents four decades of special archive and runway jewellery displayed together as a collection for the first time. The curated journey is divided across eight rooms, each dedicated to distinct decades of design. Highlights include the punk Origins room, fantasies of Wonderland, and the ecological philosophy of Do It Yourself. Providing concrete historical context, the exhibition also features an exploration of cultures and 18th Century Parure, alongside an ode to the house emblem in the Orb room, symbolising the world with its past, its present and through adding the Saturn ring, its future.

To complement the exhibition, SJM and Vivienne Westwood have designed a holistic lifestyle experience. The pop-up Exhibition Shop features Macau-exclusive merchandise, including limited-edition denim accessories and themed T-shirts. Visitors can also explore the permanent boutique before unwinding at the Vivienne Westwood Café, where a limited-time exclusive afternoon tea set is served. Starting in mid-May, visitors can also capture memories at the Giant Orb photobooth while enjoying photogenic treats from a themed food cart located alongside it.

Beyond the exhibition, both parties share a commitment to nurturing creative talent and fostering cultural exchange with the community. In conjunction with the showcase, a Vivienne Westwood design competition and a student seminar will offer students direct engagement with the brand's team to learn about the fashion industry. Through these targeted initiatives, SJM actively supports Macau's economic diversification, cultivating a local talent pool to drive the city's burgeoning creative industries.
